

University of Instruction Course Competencies

Joint Courses

PHA 1103: Introduction to Masonic Symbolism and Esoteric Masonry

Upon completion of this course, University participants should be able to:

1. Recognize the difference between materialism and spiritualism.
2. Investigate the relationship between religious and mystical thought.
3. Analyze foundational theories of past sages and mystics.
4. Recognize the importance of symbolism and basic methods of interpretation.
1. Participate in group presentations or masonic educational cases to highlight the importance of the aforementioned competencies.
5. Take a summative exam to assess competency comprehension.